My Avery Dennison™ A one-stop portal for all your product and order-related needs

At Avery Dennison, we love providing our world-class customer service. But we understand that sometimes you want to take care of things yourself.

My Avery Dennison, our online customer portal, adds digital functionality to your existing business to offer an efficient, consistent and personalized one-stop experience for anything related to your Avery Dennison order.

Ordering products is quick and easy.

View our inventory of thousands of solutions from your browser and compare them to find just the right product for your application needs. Placing your order is especially quick and easy with our “Quick Order” feature.

Access all product information at your fingertips.

Search products and prices, download data sheets, review service programs, request quotes and samples, and submit claims – all with a few clicks.

Visualize your order.

See all past orders, check delivery status of orders-in-progress (a great source of data for your business analytics), and request various order-related documents.

Customize and optimize your rolls.

Our slit optimization feature lets you visualize and plan for how you want to slit each roll for maximum efficiency and productivity.

Learn more and explore.

To set up and activate your account, contact your Avery Dennison sales representative.

Access anytime, anywhere.

Available on multiple devices, you can access the portal wherever you are, at your convenience.

Remember, we're still here for you.

My Avery Dennison isn't a replacement for your Avery Dennison sales representative. We are still a phone call or an email away, whenever you need expert guidance or follow-up.
